BACKGROUND INFORMATION

Established by law in 1875, Joliet Public Library was housed in three small downtown locations before its eventual arrival at a piece of property purchased in 1899 on the corners of Clinton and Ottawa Streets. Architect Daniel Burnham, of the 1893 Columbia Exhibition fame, was commissioned to build a library building on the property. The building opened to the public on December 14, 1903. On September 8, 1991, the Library opened a connected 49,000 square foot expansion that matched the design of the original building.

Understanding the growing expansion of the City to the west, the Library Board decided to build a branch to serve the west side of Joliet. The 36,000 square foot Black Road Branch had a soft opening on November 25, 2002.

While the building is in relatively good condition and a brand new roof has ensured a sound and water-tight facility, it does not accommodate today’s patrons’ needs adequately. The 75,000 square foot Ottawa Street Branch represents a different era in library services and lacks the amenities found in libraries built more recently. The building lacks convivial spaces for collaboration, study areas, training spaces, play areas for children, maker spaces, a decently sized digital media space, various sized meeting rooms, and staff offices and work areas.

In April 2018, Joliet Public Library contracted with Anders Dahlgren of Library Planning Associates to develop a space needs assessment for both Joliet Library branches. The result of that assessment and rough cost analysis led the Board of Trustees to vote to move forward with a major remodeling plan for the Ottawa Street building first. Its age and its proximity to other downtown building projects led to the decision to embark on this design in 2019.

In March 2019, Joliet Public Library hired Engberg Anderson Architects to embark on Project Burnham, a comprehensive remodel of the Ottawa Street Branch. After an extensive outreach campaign, Joliet City Council voted to sell bonds in the amount of $6.5 million dollars to supplement the $4 million the Library has in reserve for the project. In May 2020, the Library’s $6.5 million project was included in the State of Illinois’ FY2021 Capital Appropriations Bill. The City’s bond will eventually be paid off by the State, saving the tax payers of Joliet.

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The purpose of the project is to renovate the existing library facility located at 150 N. Ottawa Street, Joliet, IL 60432. The project will include approximately 75,000 square feet of renovations on three floors. Working with designs from the Architect, in collaboration with the Library, the goal is to holistically redesign, upgrade, rearrange, and refresh the interior space of the building to meet emerging service patterns and fulfill the current and future needs of the community. The projected budget for construction management and cost of construction is $10.5 million.

Aspects of the construction will be implemented in phases in order to avoid complete disruption of library services. The Construction Manager will be required to work closely with the owner/Library personnel and architects to develop and maintain a workable phased schedule to minimize public inconvenience, including the rearrangement of the collection. The Construction Manager will also be responsible for coordinating the schedules of any required movers and/or furniture installers during the construction phase.

The Library Board of Trustees, Executive Director, and staff expect to collaborate actively with the Construction Manager and Architect to create a renovated library that would meet their expectations and the needs of the community.

SCOPE OF WORK

The Construction Manager selected will work in cooperation with the Architect to realize the goals of the Library in an expeditious and economical manner. Construction management services shall be performed in accordance with the AIA A134 construction management agreement, in the format as amended and attached to this RFQ (the “Agreement”).

Construction Manager services are specified in the Agreement and shall include, but are not limited to:

- Pre-Construction: The Joliet Public Library has completed a significant portion of the design for the Project Burnham Renovation. The Construction Manager would be brought on board at approximately 50% of Construction Documents. The limited pre-constructions services would include:
  - Participation in regular meetings through bidding, providing feedback on constructability.
  - Providing a construction schedule.
  - Assistance in phasing the project to minimize interruption of library services.
  - Providing a 50% construction document estimate.

- Bidding: Preparation and coordination of the bid documents and manuals, public bid announcement and pre-bid walk-through; obtaining and opening bids along with recommendation of award in a manner consistent with requirements for public libraries under applicable statutes; and obtaining all required permits from the City of Joliet and any other governmental authority with jurisdiction.

- Construction: Daily on-site supervision including scheduling, coordination, and quality control; scheduling and coordination of bi-weekly construction meetings with Library and Architect; obtaining all required inspections with the City of Joliet; coordination of all shop drawings and material submittals between Architect and subcontractors; submittal and management of all payment applications including all lien waivers, change orders, etc.; final punch list per phase; and project close out, including all manuals and documentation. The construction manager at risk, as principal, will furnish payment and performance bonds naming the Library as obligee, with a penal sum equivalent to the cost of the work.
